English-Language Daily Print Newspapers on the Web

This listing allows easy access to English Language daily newspapers (and Sunday counterparts) around the world. In this case, "daily" means it is published in print at least five times a week, unless noted. Links will be tested regularly.

There are many lists similar to this on the web, but most are cluttered with links to weeklies/monthlies/newsletters, foreign language sites and web-only electronic newspapers. In addition, many of the links are old - electronic newspaper publishing is fairly new and locations are constantly changing as operations grow. It is my hope that you will find this page useful in finding out what is going on in the world - from sources close to the action.

RANKINGS

★ Under construction, headline service or other nominal activity ("See, we have a web site...")

★★ Selective reprints from printed newspaper

★★★ Good news source, but may be lacking in number of news articles reprinted from print, graphics, navigation ease and/or loading speed

★★★★ Good news detail, good graphics, fairly easy to navigate and reasonably quick to load

★★★★★ Excellent news detail, excellent graphics, easy to navigate, quick to load

Who is Kidon

(History now)

Kidon is in real life Kees van der Griendt, a Political Science student at the University of Amsterdam, although he isn't spending that much time on his study at the time.

He is personally and semi-professionally interested in Newspapers: He collects titles of newspapers and sells the Saturday edition of the newspaper De Volkskrant on Friday nights in some of the bars of Amsterdam.

He used to sell Het Parool on subway and train stations around Amsterdam, but traded that one in for an office job.

His interest in news also makes him a fan of CNN and Sky News, two of the channels he picks up from his very own satellite dish.

If you want to send e-mail to him, for comments, suggestions or new links, you can use the mail function of your browser or use a form. For American newspapers you can also e-mail to Duncan Morrow, he deserves the credit for the US listing.

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL AMERICAS

► Los problemas financieros de Asia comienzan a afectar los mercados de cereales. Existen temores de que empresas japonesas de cereales pudieran tener problemas para importar productos de EE.UU. al mismo ritmo que lo han hecho en el pasado, lo cual perjudicaría la demanda de cereales y sus precios.

► Los altibajos del viernes en el mercado de valores de EE.UU. podrían ser una advertencia de que va a haber más sacudidas en los precios de las acciones durante las próximas dos semanas, una situación que afectaría directamente a América Latina, cuyas bolsas siguen de cerca los movimientos de Wall Street.

► American International Group Inc. podría anunciar hoy que ha logrado un acuerdo definitivo para pagar unos US$2.200 millones por American Bankers Insurance Group Inc., un importante vendedor de pólizas de seguros de crédito. Esta operación fortalecerá la ya sólida posición de AIG en el mercado de seguros especializados.

► La batalla por contener la crisis económica de Corea del Sur podría depender fácilmente de un silencioso esfuerzo por influenciar el pensamiento del recién elegido presidente, Kim Dae Jung. En esta batalla se enfrentarán los activistas, que han sido sus aliados durante años, contra los políticos afines al mundo empresarial y los tecnócratas que también están del lado del nuevo mandatario.

► Coca-Cola indicó que espera que su volumen mundial de cajas de refrescos, un importante indicador del sector, crezca entre un 7% y 8% en el cuarto trimestre en comparación con el mismo período del año pasado, por encima de las expectativas de la compañía. El aumento refleja un saludable crecimiento en varias regiones, en especial América Latina, donde el volumen crecerá entre un 9% y 10%.

► Los socios estadounidenses de KPMG Peat Marwick votaron "abrumadoramente" el sábado para fusionarse con Ernst & Young. La operación creará la mayor empresa de contabilidad y consultoría del mundo, con una facturación total de US$ 18.300 millones para el año fiscal 1997.

PERIÓDICOS SOCIOS ►

▶ Las compañías de Japón, incluso las más grandes y sanas, tienen problemas de liquidez. Además, continúan las quiebras, lo que provocó el viernes la caída en picada de la bolsa de Japón. La culpa la tiene el problemático sistema bancario japonés, responsable de la mayor crisis de crédito que este país ha sufrido en décadas.

▶ COLUMNA/VIAJES: la última tendencia de viajes entre los estadounidenses, para los que la introspección y el examen de conciencia se están convirtiendo en una pasión, es acudir a los monasterios, conventos y abadías del país, con el fin de experimentar —aunque sea por unos días— una vida más sencilla.

▶ COLUMNA/INICIATIVAS: Para los que heredan la vajilla de la abuela o de la mamá, el reemplazo de alguna pieza que se haya roto al cabo de los años puede ser un problema. Un empresario advirtió esa situación y vio una oportunidad de mercado para un negocio lucrativo.

Dice el cardinal Ortega que no quiere "una Navidad consumista..."

Se refiere el Arzobispo de La Habana a la suspensión del crucero a Cuba los cual fue por las "críticas diversas" que surgieron

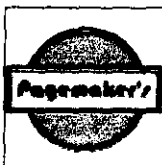

LA HABANA .- El cardinal cubano Jaime Ortega comentó que "surgieron críticas diversas" en torno al viaje de un crucero con peregrinos a Cuba con motivo de la visita del Papa Juan Pablo II, que fue cancelado por la iglesia de Miami.

En una rueda de prensa tras la misa que ofició en una iglesia habanera, Ortega dijo que el obispo de Miami, John Clement Favalora, le envió una carta explicándole que sus razones para cancelar el viaje del crucero "son internas y no son de no apoyar a la Iglesia en Cuba en el momento del viaje del Papa".

"El obispo de Miami -comentó el arzobispo de La Habana- nota una división de opiniones en la que él prefiere buscar otras vías para que permanezca y se mantenga la peregrinación", porque "surgieron críticas diversas, algunos dijeron que ese iba a ser un barco de lujo que iba a cruzar la Florida como si fuera un viaje de placer y no de peregrinación".

Ortega, arzobispo de La Habana, hizo un comentario sobre el mensaje navideño de Juan Pablo II al pueblo de Cuba con motivo de su visita en enero próximo, publicado hoy por el diario comunista "Granma", y lo calificó como "un mensaje popular, escrito en un lenguaje en el que el pueblo puede entender los signos de la Navidad".

"Es un mensaje profundamente cristiano, religioso, en el que el hijo de Dios se ha hecho hombre y ha venido a nosotros. Esa es la Navidad que la Iglesia quiere construir. No queremos una Navidad consumista en la que se haga un balance de cuanto se ha vendido", añadió le prelado.

El periódico "Granma" publicó en su portada el texto del mensaje papal, un hecho impensable en otros tiempos, pero que ahora es interpretado como una muestra de que las relaciones entre la Iglesia Católica y el Estado pasan por una nueva etapa.

Sobre el reciente encuentro celebrado entre la jerarquía católica cubana y Fidel Castro, Ortega dijo que "no se trató de una reunión para pedir garantías, pero el presidente dio todas las seguridades de que será una visita en la cual el Papa debe sentirse acogido por todo el pueblo y con absoluta libertad de expresión y de movimiento".

"Hay unas seguridades -señaló- de que el Papa no es solamente recibido por la Iglesia y que el gobierno autoriza a la Iglesia a que reciba al Papa, sino que al mismo tiempo todo el país se pone en disposición de recibir al Santo Padre".

El cardenal cubano señaló que la Iglesia Católica no renuncia a tener acceso a los medios de comunicación (en Cuba todos son estatales) ni a la educación cristiana porque "hay cosas que no pueden quedar olvidadas como si no pertenecieran a su misión".

Señaló que "una educación como la que hubo en el pasado en Cuba, no sería cuestión de grandes colegios, quizás la Iglesia podría encontrar otros medios, pero lo que es fundamental es que haya una educación católica, lo que es fundamental es que la Iglesia tenga un día acceso a los medios de comunicación".

En ese sentido subrayó que "el acceso a los medios de comunicación puede ser algo que también entre en un proceso dinámico, a lo cual la Iglesia no renuncia, y eso no significa que espere que haya un cambio automático con respecto a esto a corto plazo, pero lo inscribimos en esa especie de tensión dinámica que el Santo Padre ha colocado en un párrafo clave de su mensaje".

El Papa dice en su misiva que espera que después de su visita, la Iglesia (...) pueda seguir disponiendo, cada vez más, de la libertad necesaria para su misión y de los espacios adecuados para llevarla a cabo plenamente y seguir prestando así su servicio al pueblo cubano".

El arzobispo de La Habana dijo que a partir de la visita del Papa la Iglesia tenga más libertad y encuentre mayores espacios para su misión y que para el pueblo cubano se produzca al mismo tiempo un "despertar religioso" y también "a los valores y la esperanza".

Adelanta el proyecto de la Av. César Chávez

Cesar Chavez Avenue project advances

Project architect, Rafael Garcia, explains some of the plans

El proyecto de la Avenida César Chávez, puede estar más cerca a dar principio.

Un estudio de la renovación y las mejoras de la Av. César Chávez, se presentó en una reunión con miembros de la comunidad.

El arquitecto Rafael Garcia, coordinador del proyecto, le dijo al grupo que todavía tiene bastante dinero para el estudio del proyecto, que tiene cerca de $900,000, pero que el dinero para la construcción en si, se necesita conseguir de la ciudad.

Garcia le dijo al grupo que sus mentes deberán de estar abiertas a las oportunidades que hay para esta área en la avenida, que va de la calle 23 abajo del puente, de la calle 23 y el I-35.

"Nosotros hemos puesto atención a sus opiniones, oímos lo que es más importante para ustedes, y ahora lo que digan puede volverse una realidad, sus ideas acerca del futuro", dijo Garcia.

Este proyecto será parte del futuro" dijo él. "Necesitamos ver hacia las generaciones futuras y hasta más allá", dijo é

The Avenida de Cesar Chavez project could be closer to moving from the drawing stage.

A study for the improvement and renovation for the Avenida de Cesar Chavez was presented to community members during a recent meeting for their consideration.

Architect Rafael Garcia, who coordinates the project, told the group that there is still enough money to do the study and design work on the project, about $900,000, but money for the actual construction work will have to be allocated by the City Council in the future.

Garcia told the group to open their minds to the opportunities that are available for the corridor which goes from the 23rd Street bridge, down 23rd Street to I-35.

"We shared your input, listened to what you thought was important, and now your words can be turned into tangible products and ideas about the future," Garcia said.

Do you have some feedback for the Nando Times staff?

Who and what is Nando.net?

Nando.net is the new media division of McClatchy Newspapers, Inc. (NYSE:MNI), with corporate headquarters in Sacramento, Calif. (USA). McClatchy Newspapers publishes 10 daily and 12 non-daily newspapers including the Sacramento (CA) Bee, The Anchorage (AK) Daily News, The Tacoma (WA) News-Tribune and the The News & Observer.

Nando.net is a pioneer in Web publishing and a leader in providing updated news and information. Every three to six minutes you'll be able to find the latest news and information from around the world. Nando.net, located in Raleigh, North Carolina (USA), began publishing news on the Web in July of 1994.

What are some of Nando.net's services and publications?

Main Products

- The Nando Times: Up-to-the minute news from around the globe.
- The SportServer: More sports than you can handle.
- The Techserver: Complete coverage of technology.
- NewsWatcher: A java-based application delivering the latest headlines.
- Meeting Street: Meet new friends on Meeting Street!
- SCOREBOARD: Up-to-the minute sports scores.
- Track News: Comprehensive coverage of Track & Field.
- Today in Photos: A look at the world through the lenses of the world's top photographers.
- Travel Server: Find a great vacation spot and make your reservations.
- The insider: North Carolina politics at its best.
- Comics Page: A bevy of laughs and fun!
- Cyrano Server: Let Cyrano help you find those special words for that special someone.
- Sports Chat: What's that you say?
- Nando Archive: The past fourteen days of Nando coverage.

Expanded Coverage

- The Transfer of Hong Kong
- Timothy McVeigh Trial
- Election96 (US)
- Spotlight on the 1997 Academy Awards
- 1997 Masters Tournament
- 1997 NBA Playoffs

- 1997 NHL Playoffs
- 1997 Indianapolis 500
- 1997 French Open
- The Kentucky Derby
- The Preakness
- Wimbledon
- Tour de France

Our publication and service list is constantly expanding. To keep track of our offerings, add our site directory to your bookmarks.

What are the sources of the news and information found in Nando.net's publications?

- Associated Press
- Agence France-Presse
- Reuters
- SportsTicker
- Africa News Service
- Scripps-McClatchy Wire Service
- New York Times Syndicate
- L.A. Times Syndicate
- Christian Science Monitor
- Tribune Media Services
- Copley News Service
- The American Reporter
- Nando reporters & editors

Other Nando.net resources

- Media Kit: Nando offers national and regional advertising placement. Options include targeting by geographic region or content.
- Site Directory: Who and what make up Nando.net's offerings.
- Current Nando stats: Today's Nando.net web access estimates based on the size of the Nando.net httpd logs for our main servers. Nando traffic is audited by I/Pro. A copy of the summary page of our most recent audit is available on request. Send email to inquire@nando.net or call 919.836.5910 .

What makes Nando different from other Web news sites?

1. Frequency of Updates - news on our site is updated every three to six minutes. Our closest competitor (CNN) updates every 30-45 minutes.
2. Depth of Coverage - At any given moment there are more than 1,000 current news stories on the Nando Times. Additionally, our SportServer (<http://www.sportserver.com>) follows sports like no other site.

3. Perspective - Unlike most of our competitors, we position ourselves as a global service. Currently, more than 30% of our visitors are non-US based. Our perspective is also Web-based. We do not have a print, cable or broadcast version.

What do your readers think of your publications?

"I only found this news outlet about a month ago and at first had some difficulty figuring what nando stood for but soon determined. Best darn news outlet on line, and I read N.T. Times, Washington Post, Dallas Morning News (I live in MO. temp. but am a Texan to my toenails) and USA TODAY as well as msnbc. I guess you have to be good - serving all those professors at the University of North Carolina. What's good about your news is the great organization and the ease of finding what is wanted. Thank you."

- Jim Gabbard (jogabbard@worldnet.att.net) 6/10/97

"For those of us in low bandwidth places like the suburbs of Moscow you guys do a great job: small gifs and no jumpin' Java. I salute you. I also like you broad coverage: the tech server and the long detailed stories you run.

"You are pioneers and stay in front. I should know. I first went online in 1967 on a timeshare system in NYC over a teletype with a Mickey Mouse modem. Thanks for keeping me informed out here in the land of copper. After two years I can say you are the best."

- Bruce Woolman (bwoolman@matrix.ru) 6/8/97

CRAYON is Copyright © 1995-7 NetPressence, Inc.. All rights reserved. NetPressence, Inc. takes no responsibility for the content of any of the sources listed in this page.

How To Use CRAYON

Why use CRAYON?

When you use CRAYON, getting the daily information you need is faster and more efficient than by any other method or media.

Imagine going to your local paper office and telling them exactly what you do and do not read. Then imagine the next day they deliver a newspaper to your door that is customized just for you.

Welcome to CRAYON.

How to use CRAYON

CReAting Your Newspaper

1. Click the link on the main CRAYON page that says CReAtE Your FREE Newspaper to start.
2. Enter your e-mail address in the field next to Your e-mail address: It must be a working address. Choose a password for your paper, if you wish to have one, and enter it twice in the blanks provided. Press the "OK" button.
3. On the next page titled "CRAYON Settings", enter your name at the top of the form and choose what you'd like to call your paper. You can also type in a motto to put at the top of your paper. (This is a novelty feature and is not required.)
4. Choose whether you want to be prompted for a password when you read your paper and/or when you modify your paper. We strongly recommend that you require a password for modifying your paper, or anyone will be able to change it. If you have a group of people who you want to all contribute to your newspaper, leave the modify requirement off.
5. If you're from the United States, type your 5-digit zip code for customized US weather and local news. When you click to the next page, the closest local news site and your local weather station will be automatically inserted into your subscriptions.
6. Choose whether or not you'd like to view your newspaper with or without frames. Frames are tricky, but fun. If your browser has JavaScript, you may choose the two windows view, which puts your links in a long narrow window. You view your paper in a full-sized browser window. When you view your paper, CRAYON will show the best view possible according to your view setting and your browser capabilities.
7. You may tweak miscellaneous settings for your front page, including highlight color, the number of headlines displayed for each source, and how to display graphic sources.

Loading them as images might be slow and take a lot of memory, especially if you want to read lots of comics or get some satellite weather maps. If you use the frames or two-window view, inline image chooses whether or not your graphic sources will appear on your front page.

8. To select all the sources in your paper in one huge form, hit "The BIG Form" button. To take it by section, hit "Standard". If you don't have much time, or you just want a good, well rounded paper, hit "Quick Paper".

Making your selections

1. Simply fill out the form, checking each item you are interested in. Be conservative unless you have a lot of time on your hands.
2. The numbers in brackets ([]) are the percentages of papers that have included that link.
3. You can navigate between sections by clicking the CRAYONS at the bottom of the pages. The numbers next to each CRAYON are the number of sources you've subscribed to in that section.
4. When you're done selecting sources, hit the "Create this newspaper now" button.

Changing the section order

1. By modifying the popup menus at the bottom of the form, you can change the order of your paper. For example, if you always read the sports section first, then the comics, then news, you can change your paper to be in that order.
2. The default order is the order of the sections that you just chose in the form. If you don't want reorder your paper, just leave the default selections.
3. If you do want to reorder your paper, simply change sections A, B, C, etc to reflect your order choice.

Publishing your paper

1. Click the "Publish this newspaper" button to create your paper. In a minute your newspaper will be returned with your selected items.
2. The next page will give you the address of your newspaper. Go to this URL to read your paper each day.

Tips for reading your paper

1. Bookmark your paper!
2. If your images seem to look the same, don't worry, you're not in Groundhog Day. Your browser probably caches images and you just need to either flush your cache or force your browser to reload the image.

Now that you've read the instructions, go ahead...

Boletín de Información Personalizada | Personal press clipping

¡My News le ahorra tiempo y dinero!

My News y su exclusivo sistema telemático permite a los abonados acceder a la Base de Datos que día a día vamos creando con los principales periódicos nacionales y Boletines Oficiales. Usted recibirá cada día a las 8 de la mañana en su PC, todas y únicamente las noticias que le interesan y hayan salido publicadas en los diarios seleccionados.

También podrá solicitar las noticias publicadas con anterioridad, imprimirlas, y guardarlas en su propia base de datos documental para recuperarlas fácilmente, y sin gasto, cuando usted lo precise.

Esta página ha sido visitada

veces desde el día 25 de junio

Servicios

My News pone a su disposición un servicio de únicas características en los aspectos de:

- CAPACIDAD DE SELECCIÓN
- ACCESIBILIDAD
- Mantenimiento de su propia BASE DE DATOS DOCUMENTAL
- BAJO coste
- TARIFAS Vigentes
- SENCILLEZ DE MANEJO

Necesitando para ello el uso de:

- Un PC o compatible con MSDOS 5.0 o superior
- 2 Mb de Ram
- Pantalla VGA
- Línea telefónica analógica
- Módem de comunicaciones (si carece de él se lo podemos facilitar)
- Un ratón compatible Microsoft.

Capacidad de Selección

El Sistema le permite seleccionar la información sin limitaciones de los temas a buscar ya que se opera sobre una Base de Datos indexada por texto libre, lo que significa que puede localizarse por cualquier palabra sin que la búsqueda esté sujeta a índices fijos o a tablas prefijadas.

Seleccionando el tema, las búsquedas se podrán dirigir al medio ó medios escogidos de entre los que forman parte del Sistema My News, tanto de la información ya publicada con anterioridad y que se halla a disposición en la Base de Datos Central, como de las nuevas noticias que puedan aparecer cada día.

Inicio

Volver a la página principal

Accesibilidad

Este sistema resuelve el grave problema de la Accesibilidad a la ingente información que diariamente nos envuelva, con precisión y velocidad hasta ahora impensables. Estamos en un sistema totalmente digital desde el Periódico hasta el lector, lo que ha permitido es establecer herramientas de lectura inteligente cercanas al usuario que interaccionan con la Base de Datos Central, lo que confiere al sistema una extraordinaria rapidez

Inicio

Volver a la página principal

Base de Datos en el Ordenador del Lector

La información se transfiere en formato digital ASCII estructurada por lo que se puede archivar de forma muy fácil y rápida en la Base de Datos del gestor documental de la aplicación de My News. Ello permite un acceso ilimitado, sin costo y en muy pocos segundos a toda la información ya recibida con anterioridad.

Esta posibilidad es un hito muy importante ya que por fin se puede archivar sin costo, dando la posibilidad de localización posterior inmediata.

Inicio

Volver a la página principal

Bajo Coste

En relación con los costes de los sistemas tradicionales de selección, recopilación, fotocopia, reparto, archivo, etc., el sistema My News por ser totalmente informático en el que no hay ninguna manualidad, permite un ahorro de costos importantísimo.

Además este sistema permite no infringir los derechos de autor del periódico lo que no sucede con las fotocopias típicas (tema en constante debate), puesto que las empresas editoras de los periódicos venden su información al lector a través del quiosco electrónico exclusivo de My News. El sistema informa continuamente de los costos antes y después de incurrir en ellos.

Spanish TV chips away at the language barrier

For years, Spanish-speakers have been able to access some English-language shows -- particularly movies -- through a soundtrack on the secondary audio program (SAP) circuit installed on most newer TVs.

The reverse -- making Spanish-language programming accessible to English-only viewers -- has rarely happened, which makes some current industry moves intriguing.

GANAMOS MUCHOS PREMIOS

El Departamento de Proyectos Digitales, donde se produce este periódico electrónico, edita también como ustedes saben, el Museo Virtual de Artes (MUVA). Si bien el periódico nos ha permitido tomar contacto con todos ustedes (ya superamos los 500.000 accesos mensuales) y ganar algunos premios internacionales, el MUVA está colmando de satisfacciones al entusiasta equipo. A tres meses de su inauguración completó 15 premios internacionales, el último de los cuales -"Aguila Dorada" y "Medalla de Oro" al Mejor Web del Año- fue otorgado por el Quinto Festival de la Creatividad realizado en Ciudad de México, en competencia con otros 327 proyectos provenientes de Argentina, Brasil, Gran Bretaña, Venezuela, Chile y México. "Sin duda era el mejor. Presentaba una verdadera navegación virtual con sensaciones en tercera dimensión", señaló Rodolfo Vetanzos, uno de los jueces calificadores. Si quieren conocer a Quienes Hacen el Muva, apunten a la dirección con ese nombre dentro del botón INFO que aparece en el hall del museo (<http://www.diarioelpais.com/muva>). Si quieren conocer al resto del grupo, en el mismo lugar apunten a Departamento Digital.

INTERNET EN URUGUAY

Seguramente les gustará saber que en Uruguay ya tenemos 103.000 usuarios potenciales de la Red y que el 8 de octubre se pone en marcha un proyecto denominado Uruguay Net, tendiente a crear un "ciberspacio" nacional, con sensible abaratamiento de las tarifas locales y mejoramiento de la capacidad de acceso. Los usuarios podrán fácilmente encontrarlo. Como Netscape 4 o 5. Otra cosa que me parece buena es tener un índice de correos a los cuales uno de puede dirigir, como por ejemplo estrellas uruguayas en todos los géneros, o entes como la caja de jubilaciones, facultades etc. Como siempre es lo mejor, desde esta hermosa tierra de Israel, pero estando muy cerquita por nuestro intermedio. SHALOM y adelante!! El País: Gracias por tu consejo. Estamos estudiando una guía de software. A las instituciones locales con sitio web, puedes encontrarlas en BUSCADOR, en la Guía de sitios uruguayos.

LECTORES QUE NOS ELOGIAN

Ricardo Uriarte nos dice: "¡la página de El País esta cada día mejor! Es un orgullo para mí en el departamento de Colgate-Palmolive en el que trabajo aquí en New York, decir que esta página es de un diario Uruguayo. Aquí hay empleados oriundos de muchos países y sin lugar a dudas la página de El País es la mejor de todos los otros periódicos que he visto, lejos".

Capturas por la ola de violencia

Bogotá

Dos éxitos se anotaron el Departamento Administrativo de Seguridad (DAS) y la Policía Nacional en la jornada navideña, al lograr la captura de uno de los sindicados del secuestro del ex ministro Argelino Durán, y la aprehensión de seis de los miembros del grupo guerrillero Jaime Bátelman Cayón. En primer término, y luego de una exhaustiva labor de inteligencia, fue capturado en el barrio San Mateo de Bogotá, el individuo Nicodemus Luna Mosquera, quien pese a haber sido amnistiado en 1995, persistió en labores al margen de la ley y terminó vinculado al secuestro del ex ministro Durán. Simultáneamente, en Rovira (Tolima), la Policía capturó a seis de los principales integrantes del Jaime Bátelman Cayón, que hace tres semanas protagonizaron el secuestro de los periodistas William Parra y Luis Eduardo Maldonado.

Las campañas políticas recargan sus baterías

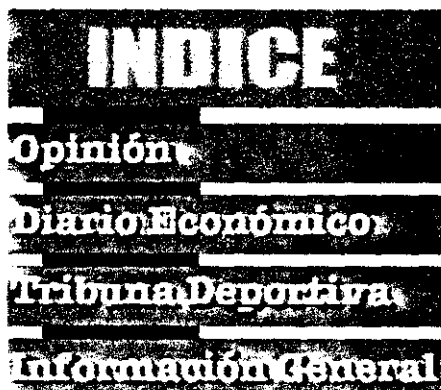

Por: CARLOS MURCIA

Con un nuevo aire, en la primera semana de enero, los candidatos reinician la campaña para las elecciones de Congreso y presidente de la República. Harold Bedoya y Juan Camilo Restrepo reanudarán su actividad entre el 2 y 3 de enero. Andrés Pastrana, Noemí Sanín, Carlos Lleras, Alfonso Valdivieso y Horacio Serpa, el 5 y 6 de enero. El presidente Samper hará hoy una pausa en sus vacaciones para sancionar varias leyes. Luego irá a Cartagena, donde esperará el año nuevo.

La economía, en órbita del 98

Bogotá

El paquete de reajustes que regirá a partir de 1998 y que incluye alzas en los peajes, nuevas tarifas en telecomunicaciones, la fijación de una meta de inflación del 16%, el reajuste del salario mínimo y la reforma a la tabla de la retención en la fuente, son apenas el abrebocas de lo que puede suceder con la economía el año próximo. Para el caso de las tarifas de los peajes, el Ministerio de Transporte determinó un incremento promedio de 15,89% que empezará a regir a partir del 1º de enero de 1998. Por su parte, la Comisión de Regulación de Telecomunicaciones determinó que el año entrante se otorgará un descuento de 10% a las llamadas de larga distancia internacional y mantener la actual tarifa nacional, entre otras medidas. En lo que respecta al salario mínimo, el Gobierno acordó un reajuste en 18,5%, es decir, quedó en $203.826. Así mismo, para cerrar el año, el Gobierno estimó que quienes devenguen menos de $1,4 millones no estarán obligados a pagar retención en la fuente. Además, el Gobierno actualizó las cifras básicas para determinar el impuesto que se pagará por ganancias ocasionales; reajustó el impuesto de timbre para la salida del país y sobre vehículos, y estableció la nueva tabla de impuestos sobre la renta y complementarios.

Rienda suelta en la Feria de Cali

Cali

Con un nutrido grupo de expertos jinetes de todo el país, ayer se dio inicio a la principal fiesta de fin de año en esta ciudad. Los caleños empezaron a disfrutar desde ayer de la mejor música salsa con el estilo del Grupo Niche, encargado de abrir oficialmente las puertas de la rumba en la "sucursal del cielo". En otras ciudades y poblaciones del país, sus habitantes ya están programando la fiesta de despedida de fin de año.

Sol y paz en el día de Pascua

Un día de remanso en medio del fuego cruzado trajo consigo el amanecer del 25 de diciembre. Colombia necesitó de la llegada del Niño Dios para descansar un poco de los actos violentos de los últimos días. Salvo incidentes aislados, en todo el país los organismos de seguridad registraron tranquilidad en la noche de Navidad

"Best of luck when you go and arrest him. When I delivered a subpoena he bit off two fingers."

Welcome to the Independent Online, a world of news from South Africa.

The news is updated each day with material from the Cape Times, Cape Argus, Business Report, The Star, the Natal Newspapers' Mercury and the Daily News. The Saturday Star and Sunday Independent material is included on the weekends.

We also have current and past issues of Sunday Life, Personal Finance and the Higher Education Review with all the back issues we could lay our hands on.

The Seeff/Cape Argus Gun Run results are now available.

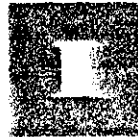

The Press Ombudsman of South Africa has published guidelines for the Press. This document can be viewed from this site.

The news is updated during the night and the indexing and archiving performed early morning to ensure that the news is as up to date as possible.

We hope you enjoy your visit to the independent online. Please do not hesitate to give us your comments or feedback through the guest book or via email.

LINKS to other journalism organizations

The Committee to Protect Journalists is a nonprofit organization dedicated to documenting, protesting and publicizing violations of press freedom worldwide.

The Dow Jones Newspaper Fund works to to improve the quality of journalism education and the pool of applicants for jobs in the newspaper business. It provides internships and scholarships to college students, career literature, fellowships for high school journalism teachers and publications' advisers and training for college journalism instructors.

The Freedom Forum is the largest foundation in America focused on fostering First Amendment freedoms, including free-speech rights, journalism education, newsroom diversity, professional development of journalists, media studies and research, and international journalism programs.

The Inland Press Association is a not-for-profit organization owned by its member newspapers and operated by a volunteer board. More than 400 daily newspapers are members, as are numerous other publications. Its foundation's programs focus on practical assistance for day-to-day newspaper operations. Inland is also known for its research, including the annual Newsroom Industry Compensation Survey.

The International Center for Foreign Journalists was established to help the world's news media attain the highest possible standards, fulfill their role as reliable servants of the public, strengthen the independence of the press and broaden news coverage of both local and global issues. Formerly known as CFJ, the Center for Foreign Journalists, ICFJ provides a full range of professional training and educational programs, consulting services, exchanges, and practical professional research.

The Journalism Education Association is the only independent national scholastic journalism organization for teachers and advisers. The headquarters office, located at Kansas State University in Manhattan, Kan., is maintained as a clearinghouse for JEA members and programs. It also houses the JEA Bookstore.

The John S. and James L. Knight Foundation s dedicated to furthering their ideals of service to community, to the highest standards of journalistic excellence and to the defense of a free press. To heighten the impact of their grant making, Knight Foundation's trustees have elected to focus on four programs, each with its own eligibility requirements: Community Initiatives, Journalism, Education and Arts and Culture. The journalism programs funded by the foundation are outlined here.

The National Institute for Computer-Assisted Reporting (NICAR) is a program of the Investigative Reporters and Editors Inc. and the Missouri School of Journalism. The institute has trained thousands of journalists to analyze electronic databases.

The National Federation of Press Women is an organization committed to professional excellence and the promotion of the highest ethical standards in communication fields, to equal opportunity in these fields and to the rights and responsibilities of the First Amendment.

Members of the National Press Club in Washington have included four generations of American and foreign journalists, plus many of the 20th century's foremost newsmakers. Many have spoken from the club's podium; some as in the case of presidents Carter and Reagan, to announce their candidacies for the highest office in the land.

The National Writers Union (UAW/AFL-CIO) is the trade union for freelance writers working or publishing in U.S. markets, including journalists, poets, book, technical, Web, academic, and other authors.

The Newspaper Association of America is a nonprofit organization representing the $46 billion newspaper industry and over 1,500 member newspapers in the United States and Canada. Headquartered in Vienna, Va., NAA focuses on five key strategic priorities that collectively affect the newspaper industry: marketing, public policy, diversity, industry development and newspaper operations. Most NAA members are daily newspapers that account for approximately 87 percent of U.S. daily circulation.

The Newspaper Guild (Communications Workers of America) is primarily a media union with members throughout the industry, including newspapers and electronic media.

Nihon Shinbun Kyokai, the Japan Newspaper Publishers & Editors Association, has a site that is primarily in Japanese (and will require a Japanese character set to read). There is a portion of the site in English, here.

The Pew Center for Civic Journalism is an incubator for civic journalism (also called public journalism) experiments to allow news organizations to create and refine better ways of reporting the news in ways that help to re-engage people in public life.

Poynter Online offers journalism research materials and helps people learn about the Poynter Institute, a non-profit, educational journalism school in St. Petersburg, Fla. Publications, articles, speeches, bibliographies, catalog information, and other Poynter materials are available online.

The Student Press Law Center is the nation's only legal assistance agency devoted exclusively to educating high school and college journalists about the rights and responsibilities embodied in the First Amendment and supporting the student news media in their struggle to cover important issues free from censorship. SPLC provides free legal advice and information as well as low-cost educational materials for student journalists on a variety of legal topics. It also operates a referral network of about 150 lawyers across the country available to provide free legal representation.

The Virtual Institute of Information, part of Columbia University's Institute for Tele-Information, is a search and link network for telecommunications, cybercommunications, and mass media research. VII is a research tool for anyone interested in finding information on the economic, business, policy, and social aspects of telecommunications, cybercommunications, and mass media. It also contains papers, articles, and documents from researchers and writers from around the world.

About ASJA

The American Society of Journalists and Authors is the nation's leading organization of independent nonfiction writers, with more than 1,000 members.

- ☐ To its members, ASJA offers extensive benefits and services focusing on professional development, including regular confidential market information, meetings with editors and others in the field, an exclusive referral service, seminars and workshops, discount services and, above all, the opportunity for members to explore professional issues and concerns with their peers.
- ☐ To all independent writers, ASJA is a primary voice in representing freelancers' interests, serving as spokesman for their right to control and profit from uses of their work in the new media and otherwise.
- ☐ To editors and others, ASJA offers ready access to writers proven in the marketplace, capable of producing articles, books, brochures and scripts on any imaginable subject.
- ☐ To the entire publishing community, ASJA brings leadership in establishing professional and ethical standards, and in recognizing and encouraging the pursuit of excellence in nonfiction writing.

Need a professional writer?

Dial-a-Writer

One call to ASJA's Dial-a-Writer can put you in touch with more than 1,000 nonfiction writers who cover the 50 states and many nations - all experienced professionals who have met the Society's exacting membership standards. Dial-a-Writer can help you reach top specialists in articles, books, videos, brochures, editing, ghostwriting, proposals, newsletters, texts, photojournalism, public relations, speechwriting, advertising, and corporate communications. You negotiate the fee directly with the writer you choose.

Annual ASJA Directory of Writers

Locate particular writers, or find a freelancer to meet your needs. The directory features:

- ☐ Individual listings for each member, including complete contact information, specialties, expertise, publications, agents and awards
- ☐ Indexes listing members by location, specialties and expertise
- ☐ ASJA position statements

The directory is available from the ASJA office for $75.

ASJA's WriteSpeakers Referral Service

WriteSpeakers is a new service offering the quickest, most affordable way for anyone planning an event to reach top experts in a wide range of fields. All of the speakers registered with us are ASJA members, and include experts on topics in Business, Health, Lifestyles, Politics, Recreation, Religion, Science, Technology, and more.

Our referral service works very simply. Just call us and tell us what you're looking for. We'll put you directly in touch with one or more of our speakers to review your needs, verify schedules, and set fees. Once you're in touch with the WriteSpeakers member there is no further need to involve our coordinating office, although we're happy to assist you in any way we can.

Whatever your budget, WriteSpeakers can help you find the right speaker for your event. WriteSpeakers members' fees vary, depending on the individual and the complexity of the engagement. Many of our speakers are very experienced and charge in the $5000 to $15,000 range. Others, however, only charge in the $500 to $2500 range because they are on book tours or are otherwise working to promote particular projects. We can draw on the prestigious membership of the American Society of Journalists and Authors--more than 1000 top writers and experts on every conceivable subject.

So remember, no matter what your budget, schedule, or location, WriteSpeakers is your source for the right speaker for every occasion. We look forward to hearing from you and working with you soon. Contact Alexandra Cantor Owens, WriteSpeakers Coordinator, at (973) 257-1851 or by e-mail at asjany@ibm.net.

Resources for freelance writers

Contracts Watch

ASJA Contracts Watch is a free electronic newsletter from the ASJA Contracts Committee. Typically issued twice a month, it serves as Contract Information Central for freelance writers, keeping thousands informed about the latest terms and negotiations in the world of newspapers and magazines.

To receive each edition of ASJA Contracts Watch automatically (and at no charge) by e-mail, send the following message:

The Authors Registry, Inc.

The Authors Registry is a non-profit organization launched May 19, 1995 to bring ASCAP-like services to publishing. Cooperating writers' organizations and agents represent more than 50,000 authors. The Registry provides the following services:

- ☐ Authors Contact Directory - an extensive directory of authors, with contact addresses, phone numbers, fax numbers and e-mail addresses
- ☐ Licensing Service - non-exclusive licensing of author-controlled rights, particularly electronic and photocopy rights
- ☐ Automated Rights Payment System - collecting and distributing royalties for electronic and other uses of magazine articles

Organizational membership is not required to use the services of the Authors Registry. ASJA members automatically belong to the Authors Registry as part of their membership. For more information:

- ☐ Private section on JFORUM , the Journalism Forum on CompuServe, where members meet daily to share information about the writing business
- ☐ Extensive professional resource lists to facilitate networking, covering everything from agents to office equipment
- ☐ Discount services
- ☐ Authors Registry membership, facilitating royalty payments for database and electronic reprints.

How to apply for ASJA membership

Only professional freelance writers of nonfiction for general audiences are eligible for ASJA membership. Applications are evaluated by the Membership Committee, which considers only freelance work. The Committee uses the following as a guide for qualification: a minimum of six articles from a variety of national periodicals or major regional magazines or newspapers (e.g., New York Magazine, the Los Angeles Times); or two nonfiction books, or one book and a contract for a second; or a combination of these books and articles. The Committee looks for full-length articles - 1200 words or more for magazine pieces, 1000 words or more for newspapers - appearing in general circulation publications that can be purchased at newsstands.

There are many accomplished freelance writers whose work is not within ASJA's focus. Examples are those who mainly write for small regional publications, for textbook publishers, or for corporations. Writers who suspect they might be in this category can submit their application and receive guidance on what will be necessary to qualify for membership.

There is a $25 application fee. When an applicant is accepted, the $25 is applied toward a one-time initiation fee of $100. Dues are $165 per year.

For more information or a copy of the membership application, contact the ASJA office. Click here to see the application form online.

Release Notes

- This directory is in an experimental stage. Our goal is to provide an easy-to-use graphical directory to investigative journalists worldwide. This project is under construction. We hope eventually to have most of the IRE membership on the map by the end of the summer. The reporters listed in the directory are just a small sample of what could be included. Our decision to go with a small subset of members was prompted by a respect for IRE member's privacy concerns. We have plans to implement a system wherein members can decide what, if any, information they'd like to have included in this directory.
- This directory is generated on the fly by querying an Oracle database. Future enhancements will include areas of interest as well as full search capability.

Reliable Sources: The National Press Club in the American Century

Highlights of the National Press Club's first ninety years are described in a new book by Turner Publishing Co. titled Reliable Sources: The National Press Club in the American Century, a 250-page compilation focusing on the Club's role in the saga of news reporting in the nation's capital.

The Club, founded in 1908 as a social group, would not be recognized today by its founding fathers. "They would not recognize the state-of-art electronic library, nor the gym. But they would know the feel of the place, the love of words; the sanctity of news; the hatred of cant; the mistrust of power; the loathing of corruption and the rest of the panoply of evils which are the targets of the journalist's calling," writes Llewelyn King, in the book's Introduction.

The eight chapters cover the national and international leaders who have spoken at the Club's famous Luncheons, the struggles and growth of the profession and a current list of members and Fourth Estate Award winners.

Dave Turner, President of Turner Publishing Co., Paducah, KY, produced this excellent volume at no cost to the Club. Royalties will benefit the Club.

Women Journalists on the Web

Women who broke the gender barrier in journalism tell their stories in their own words in "Women in Journalism: Oral Histories of Pioneer Journalists," a collection of oral histories produced by the Washington Press Club Foundation. Of the 57 interviews in the collection, transcripts of 38 are now available on-line, with four more to be added soon. Journalism scholars may peruse the complete collection at 22 locations around the country, which are listed on the site. The interviews span seven decades and feature women in both broadcast and print journalism.

The National Press Club is a private association of members of the journalism and public relations community. It is not affiliated in any way with any government agency. The NPC does not advocate or participate in any political activity or interest; it does not direct, influence or censor any speakers at NPC-sponsored functions or at the functions at NPC facilities hosted by other parties. The statements made at events held at the National Press Club are the sole responsibility of the speaker and do not necessarily represent the opinion of the National Press Club, its employees or other members of the Club.

Individuals set fire to offices of newspaper

(RSF/IFEX) - On 10 December 1997, around 5:30 am, unknown individuals sprayed a flammable liquid in the main entrance of the editorial offices of "El Periodico de Alava", a local newspaper in the province of Alava, causing a fire on the premises. Police intervention resulted in preventing the spread of the fire to the rest of the building.

The director of the newspaper, Jose Manuel Alonso de la Hoz, indicated that he did not know what could have motivated such an attack. On the night of the fire, "El Periodico de Alava" celebrated its first anniversary.

The information you are accessing is archival and is no longer available online. This site was constructed by the Internet Multicasting Service, one of the original "cyberstations" on the World Wide Web. After three years of operation, we finished our work and disbanded on April 1, 1996.

The Internet Multicasting Service would like to thank all of our sponsors over the past few years who made our operations possible. Due to their generosity and vision, these corporations let us push the envelope, bringing new kinds of information onto the Internet. We are grateful for their loyal support.

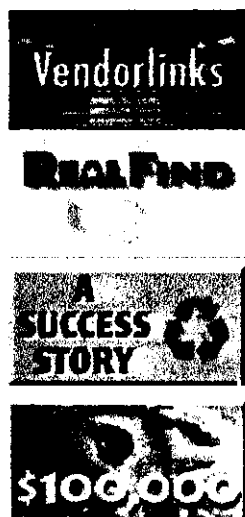

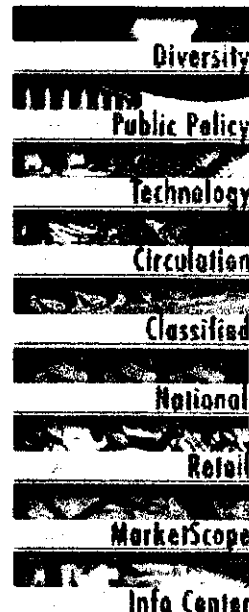

On a personal note, I'd also like to thank all the people who gave their time and their energy to make IMS a success. A long train of people came through our doors over three years, and it is the dedication and community spirit of these volunteers and employees that made our efforts possible.

Special thanks are due to the three lead members of our creative team, all of whom are available for hire for contract jobs. Brad Burdick of UUCOM was chief engineer, the team of Becknell and Lucas did all of our audio work and constructed many of our best web pages, and Becky and Larry Pranger of Enviromedia were responsible for graphic design on projects such as the Internet 1996 World Exposition. These folks are the best in the business and I've been proud to be associated with them.

The National Association of Hispanic Journalists held its 15th Annual Convention June 4 - 7, 1997, in Seattle, Washington. Keynote speakers included Congresswoman Loretta Sanchez and NPR 'Talk of the Nation' host Ray Suarez.

Funding concerns and the importance of corporate sponsorship were discussed at the membership assembly meeting on June 5th.

Helping experienced journalists further their careers will be a top priority for NAHJ as it heads into the next century, according to Patrick Salazar, NAHJ's executive director, and members of the organization's board of directors.

NAHJ is dedicated to the recognition and professional advancement of Hispanics in the news industry. Established in April 1984, NAHJ created a national voice and unified vision for all Hispanic journalists.

NAHJ is governed by a 16-member board of directors that consists of executive officers and regional directors who represent geographic areas of the United States and the Caribbean. The national office is located in the National Press Building in Washington, D.C.

NAHJ has approximately 1,700 members, including working journalists, journalism students, other media-related professionals and academic scholars.

Welcome to NCEW Online.

This World Wide Web site is provided as a service to members of the National Conference of Editorial Writers and to nonmember writers and editors of opinion material for the print and broadcast media. To access the various services offered here, click on the category that interests you. To learn more about NCEW, including how to join, read About NCEW. NCEW also maintains an email mailing list, providing quick and easy communications with members who subscribe to it.

What's New

December board meeting: NCEW is developing new activities for members who may not be able to attend the annual convention. The board heard reports on plans for regional meetings and Page Partners program, along with other topics, at its winter meeting.

European Trip Is On: Here are details of the 17-day trip to Europe that the Foreign Affairs Committee has scheduled for Jan. 24 to Feb. 11 of 1998. Scholarship aid is available for editorial writers who could otherwise not take part. (New 11/30/97)

The most beloved editorial in American journalism was written one hundred years ago by a writer, Francis Pharcellus Church, who was handed an assignment that he had no interest in doing. That's the story behind the editorial that reassures us, "Yes, Virginia..." (New 12/10/97)

Get Out of the Office: That was H.L. Mencken's advice to editorial writers when he spoke at NCEW's first convention, in Washington in 1947. Here's an abridged version of his remarks. (New 11/20/97)

Backgrounding the Issues: An exchange on NCEW's mailing list suggested that members were interested in finding out more about deregulation of the electric utility industry. As a result, NCEW Online has initiated an Issue Briefing section with a collection of links to information helpful to editorial writers preparing themselves to write about electricity deregulation. Recommendations for additional useful links, or suggestions for new topics needing backgrounding, are welcome by the Webmaster.

College students studying or involved in editorial or opinion writing may be eligible for NCEW's new student membership, which was created by vote of the organization at its annual convention. (New 11/27/96)

The current Featured Resource provides background on global warming, the subject of a current major international conference in Japan. (Revised 12/3/97)

ANEXO XXVI

Numerosos logros de la ciencia y la tecnología han sido descritos por mentes visionarias mucho tiempo antes de llegar a ser realidad.

Entre otros muchos inventos, el avión, la televisión, el viaje a la Luna y la energía nuclear fueron imaginados por el hombre con gran anticipación.

Arthur C. Clarke escribió en 1965 el guión para 2001, Una Odisea en el Espacio. Y en él nos cuenta, en poco más de una página, la visión que ha impulsado nuestro proyecto.

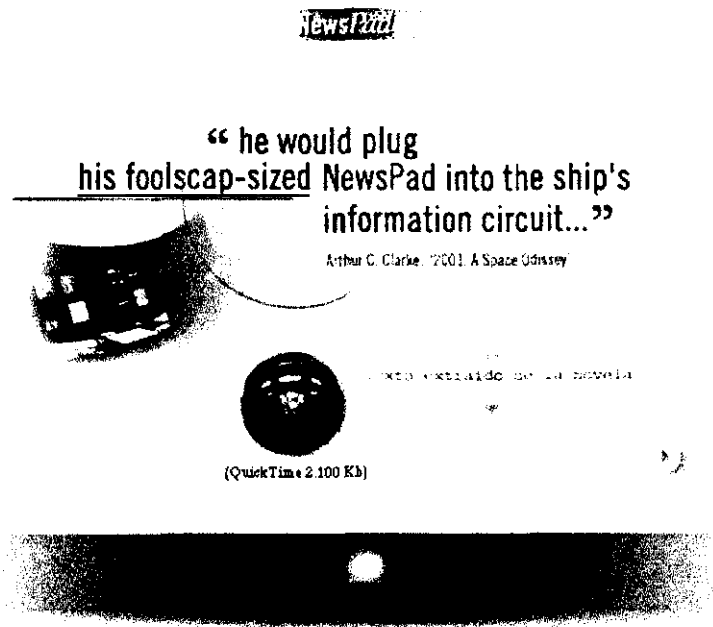

Bien, no pretendemos viajar al espacio ni crear un malvado ordenador como HAL, sino algo mucho más cercano a nuestra vida cotidiana.

Shockwave (2300 Kb)

Escucharás 5 minutos de audio de la película 2001, Una Odisea en el Espacio.

Es el tiempo que dura la agonía del computador Hal, que al ser desactivado revela el secreto de la misión espacial.

"Tenía muchas cosas en las que ocupar su tiempo, aún cuando no fuera más que en sentarse y leer. Cuando se aburría de los informes oficiales, memorándums y actas, conectaba su NewsPad a la red de datos de la nave y pasaba revista a las últimas noticias de la Tierra. Uno a uno invocaba a los principales periódicos electrónicos del mundo; conocía de memoria las claves de los más importantes, y no tenía necesidad de consultar la lista que estaba pegada al dorso de su NewsPad. Cuando tenía la primera página de un periódico en pantalla, ojeaba rápidamente sus titulares y anotaba los más interesantes. Cada uno de ellos tenía una referencia de dos cifras; de modo que al pulsarlas, el pequeño rectángulo que contenía el artículo, del tamaño de un sello, se ampliaba hasta llenar totalmente la pantalla, permitiéndole leer con toda comodidad. Después volvía a la página completa para seleccionar otro artículo y seguir leyendo.

Floyd se preguntaba a veces si el NewsPad, y la fantástica tecnología que tras él había, sería lo máximo a lo que el hombre podría llegar en su búsqueda en pos de la comunicación perfecta. Aquí se encontraba él, en el espacio exterior, alejándose de la Tierra a miles de kilómetros por hora y, sin embargo, en unos pocos milisegundos podía ver los titulares de cualquier periódico que deseara (verdaderamente esa palabra, "periódico", resultaba bastante anacrónica en la era de la electrónica). El texto era actualizado automáticamente cada hora; y se podía consumir toda una vida sin hacer otra cosa que absorber el flujo constante de información enviado por los infosatélites.

Resultaba difícil imaginar cómo el sistema podía ser mejorado, o hecho más útil y práctico. Pero más pronto o más tarde, suponía Floyd, desaparecería para ser reemplazado por algo tan inimaginable para él como el propio NewsPad hubiera sido para Caxton o Gutenberg.

Había otro pensamiento que le asaltaba a menudo al escudriñar aquellos minúsculos titulares electrónicos. Cuanto más maravillosos eran los nuevos medios, tanto más banales, sensacionalistas o deprimentes parecían ser sus contenidos. Accidentes, crímenes, desastres naturales y causados por la mano del hombre, guerras, sombríos editoriales... Tales parecían ser el contenido de los millones de palabras esparcidas por el éter. Sin embargo, Floyd se preguntaba si eso era algo globalmente malo; los periódicos de Utopía --lo tenía claro desde hacía tiempo-- serían terriblemente insulsos."

"Los nuevos desarrollos de la informática y las telecomunicaciones revolucionarán completamente el mercado de los medios de comunicación".

"Por tanto, debemos aprender cómo manejarlos".

En octubre de 1992 la empresa editora de El Periódico de Catalunya, consciente del trascendental impacto que tendrían sobre los medios de comunicación los avances de la tecnología, decidió realizar un proyecto de investigación cuyo objetivo principal era preparar a la compañía para su misión periodística en la era digital.

Una parte fundamental del proyecto era descubrir y comprender el nuevo periodismo que impulsaría la tecnología digital, y definir nuevos lenguajes para comunicar con la audiencia.

Se fijó una fecha límite para este proceso de aprendizaje : A principios de la próxima década, cuando la generación del 'game boy' se convierta en nuestra audiencia principal.

El primer paso del proyecto fue definir nuestra propia visión del futuro, tras haber reflexionado sobre nuestras ideas y las de otras personas y organizaciones que, como nosotros, estaban abriendo camino en los nuevos medios.

Esta reflexión ha continuado hasta hoy, actualizando nuestros objetivos técnicos y periodísticos a medida que hemos ido avanzando en el proyecto.

Nuestra visión:

contenidos

para la próxima generación

Los contenidos en la era digital deben combinar:

Riqueza gráfica : texto, vídeo, fotografías, sonido y animaciones.

Diversidad : noticias, ocio, servicios de utilidad, foros de discusiones

Personalización : ayuda eficaz al lector para la selección de información

Disponibilidad total : el lector debe poder acceder a lo que le interese, donde y cuando lo desee.

El nuevo periodismo de los medios digitales determinará progresivamente los formatos de los nuevos contenidos.

Para que sea posible crear un nuevo mercado, los contenidos de NewsPad deben llegar a ser, en su conjunto, más útiles y atractivos para los usuarios que los contenidos de los otros medios.

Texto, imágenes, vídeo, audio, infografía, foros de debate

...combinados en una oferta amplia, interesante, útil y atractiva de noticias, ocio y servicios ...

... dirigida a las culturas de las nuevas generaciones.

Presentación No es un diario, no es televisión.

Es un nuevo medio que pretende ofrecer al lector la información que a él le interese, donde y cuando lo desee.

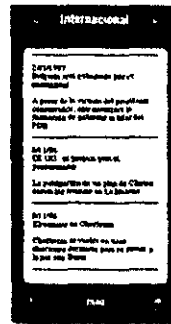

Los contenidos se reciben a través de una pantalla portátil parecida a un bloc de notas de tamaño mediano.

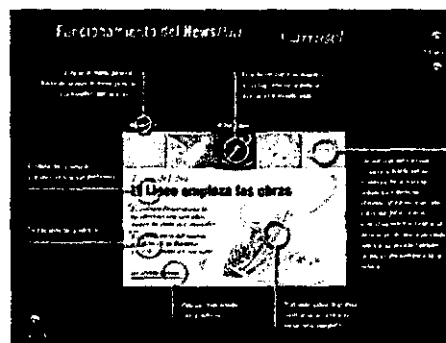

Información El usuario puede seleccionar sus áreas a la carta de interés y determinar su forma de presentación.

Presentación El primer contacto con la información de las noticias se establece mediante un carrusel en el que se presentan las noticias con imágenes, audio y vídeo, además de un breve resumen.

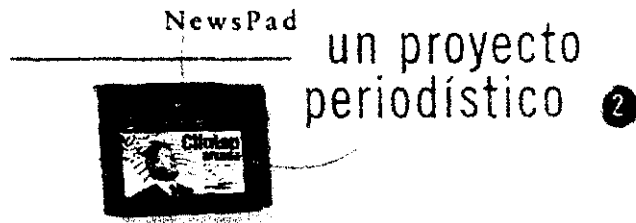

Índice de El método más directo para acceder a cualquier contenido de NewsPad es mediante la ventana de secciones, donde se encuentran los titulares y breves extractos de todas las noticias.

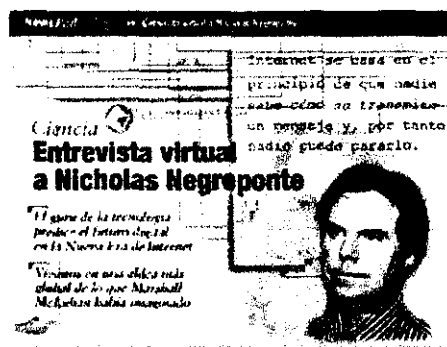

Sistema de Un sistema de ayuda contextual sirve de ayuda guía al usuario.

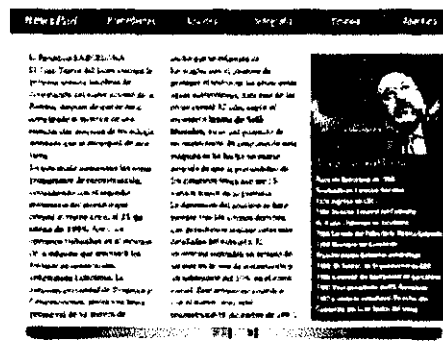

Los NewsPad ofrece información contenidos multimedia, y toda ella se presenta de manera interactiva.

Visión La página de apertura actúa como un global mapa del contenido de una noticia, de la donde se simboliza cada uno de sus noticia elementos (texto, fotos, vídeo, etc.) en distintas zonas sensibles de la pantalla. Pulsando en estas zonas se accede a los elementos de la noticia.

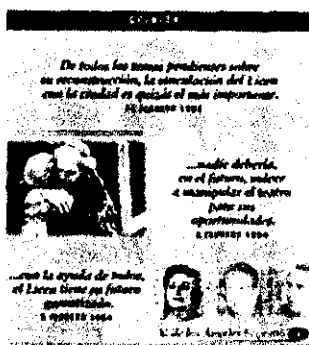

Texto de la noticia El texto es el componente central de cualquier noticia. los enlaces de hipertexto, las imágenes, los vídeos, la infografía, complementan y amplían esta información.

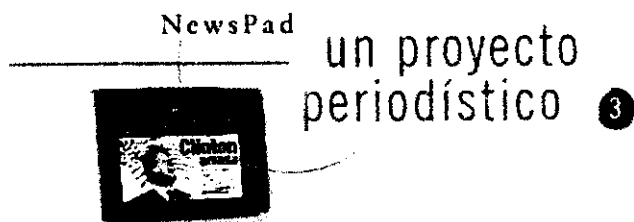

Shockwave (1090K)

Las Todas las imágenes relacionadas con imágenes una noticia se presentan de forma que se puedan buscar rápidamente entre fotos y videoclips.

Respuesta En esta sección el lector puede aportar del lector su opinión combinando texto, voz y vídeo. En los foros de debate, un periodista puede proponer paneles de discusión con participantes invitados y la colaboración directa de los lectores.

Información complementaria Las noticias se enriquecen con información multimedia adicional. Las infografías animadas, los reportajes y los glosarios son ejemplos de ello.

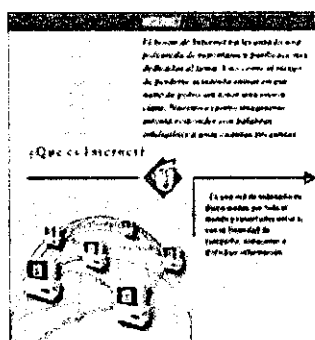

Shockwave (683K)

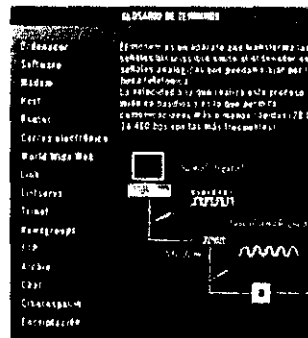

Shockwave (2300K)

Infografía animada Su función consiste en explicar en detalle y de manera visual aspectos de la noticia. Ha sido particularmente apreciada por los usuarios de las pruebas piloto.

Shockwave (1400K)

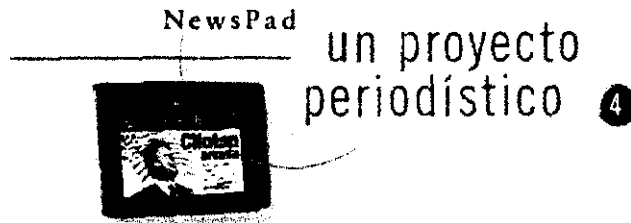

Informes Los informes contienen información adicional que complementa la noticia pero que no pertenece a ella, como puede ser el caso de informaciones técnicas. Esta información adicional suele presentarse en forma de infografía animada.

Shockwave (878K)

Glosario Cuando un artículo contiene términos difíciles, específicos de un sector (tecnología, ciencia, economía, etcétera), se complementan con un glosario adecuado que acompaña a la noticia.

Servicios on-line La posibilidad de conexiones de NewsPad a las redes de datos como Internet permitirá el acceso a su extensa oferta de servicios on-line al mismo tiempo que proporcionará una fuente de información para el periodismo interactivo. Los editores de NewsPad organizarán encuestas electrónicas, juegos, concursos on-line, etcétera y ofrecerán servicios adicionales como telecompra, bases de datos profesionales, etcétera.

NewsPad

Flash informativo El sistema permite la emisión de informaciones breves de las noticias más importantes antes de su elaboración completa por el departamento editorial.

Archivo Los servicios on-line permitirán también el acceso a la información de archivo. Las noticias recientes pueden incluir enlaces opcionales a la base de datos propia para complementar una noticia con información previa relacionada con el mismo tema.

Shockwave (137K)

Juegos on-line Se podrán recibir juegos multimedia como parte de la información habitualmente distribuida, o bajo demanda a través de una conexión en línea.

Shockwave (293K)

Encuestas electrónicas instantáneas Se pueden realizar encuestas electrónicas a través de la conexión on-line para conseguir una actualización de resultados automática en tiempo real.

newspad.wav

La producción continuada de noticias multimedia a gran escala para NewsPad requiere una tecnología sofisticada de informática y comunicaciones para apoyar todas las fases seguidas de producción de la noticia:

Obtener datos de las fuentes de información

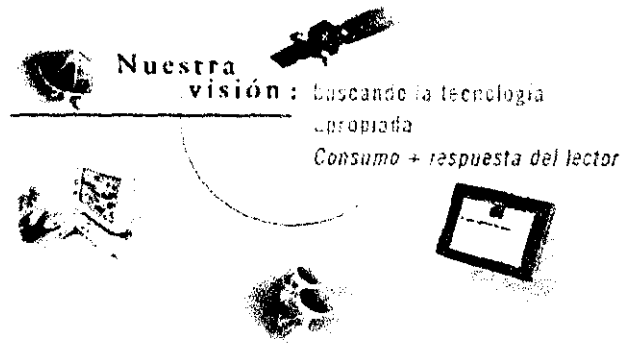

Redactar de las noticias multimedia

Integrar y compilar cápsulas completas de noticias, incluyendo texto, imágenes, vídeo, sonido, etcétera.

Difundir/distribuir la información

Leer las noticias en el dispositivo lector

Obtener respuestas del lector

Introducción El entorno de producción multimedia es un paquete de programas GroupWare destinado a los periodistas, diseñadores gráficos y demás personal creativo de la redacción para la elaboración de los contenidos de NewsPad desarrollando coordinadamente un conjunto de tareas.

El escritorio multimedia Permite crear noticias multimedia obteniendo, elaborando, editando y componiendo texto, imágenes, audio, vídeo, infografía animada, diálogos, etcétera.

Maquetador de cápsulas Para crear, editar y aplicar maquetas de multimedia al proceso de producción, de la misma manera que ocurre con la maquetación de un diario tradicional.

Compilación de cápsulas	Una vez están terminados todos los elementos de una noticia, éstos son compilados junto con su maqueta
Monitorización y control de producción	mediante un proceso automático continuo que generan las cápsulas multimedia. La producción de las cápsulas multimedia está supervisada por agentes automáticos que avisan al creador de cada elemento de la cápsula en el caso de que ocurra un error o haya un problema.
Servidor de difusión	Distribuye la información del NewsPad a través de Internet, TV digital (satélite, DVB por cable y terrestre) y, posiblemente, radio digital (DAB).

Prueba piloto final de la primera fase en junio de 1997

Continuación del diseño de nuevos contenidos

Mejoras en el visor portátil

Continuación del desarrollo del entorno de producción multimedia
durante 1997-1999

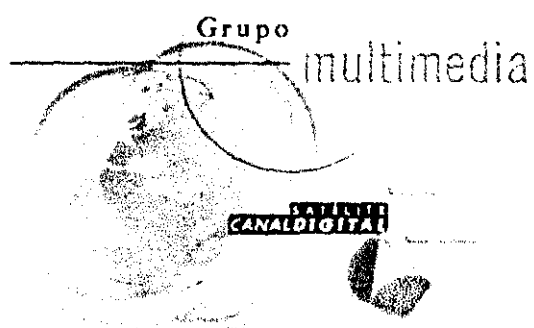

Acuerdos con otras empresas de medios de comunicación y de publicidad, telecompra, enseñanza, etcétera.

Comienzo progresivo de la explotación comercial entre 1998 y 2000:

- Webcasting a través de Internet
- Televisión digital
- Radio digital

Madurez comercial prevista entre 2002 y 2005

Posible mercado masivo para el año 2010

The NewsPAD computer is being developed as a technology demonstrator within the European Union 'OMI-NewsPAD' project (EP9252), within the ESPRIT Framework through the European Commission's Open Microprocessor systems Initiative. The NewsPAD project includes the development of prototypes and user trials of a potential real electronic alternative to traditional newspapers - comparably portable, but able to deliver multimedia-rich content including sound and video, animation and animated 'infography'. The long-term intention is to provide context sensitive and user-profile deterministic content streams, coupled with thematic threading - so that readers ultimately can fully personalise the scope of 'their' newspaper to reflect their own interests - all in a portable multimedia-capable access and display device.

For more information about the NewsPAD project, see the NewsPAD Home page. For more information about the OMI, see the Open Microprocessor Initiative's home page.

Technical Specification

32-bit Processor

- 40MHz ARM 7500, 35.9 MIPS (dhystone 2.1) peak
- 4KB instruction and data cache
- Write buffer for enhanced performance
- Fully static operation, low power consumption
- Sub-microsecond interrupt response

Memory

- 2 SODIMM Memory expansion sockets each capable of holding 4MBytes to 128MBytes of DRAM
- 4MBytes ROM for Operating System
- 496 Bytes non-volatile RAM

Mass Storage

- 2.5" IDE Hard drive (current size 420MByte)
- 1.6MByte Floppy disc drive connection available via docking station

Unique Reference

- 48-bit software readable unique identifier for use by networking software

Power Management Modes

- Suspend Mode - CPU clock may be halted while video and I/O systems continues to run, halves power consumption of ARM7500 core chip
- Stop Mode - All clocks are stopped and unit remains in 'frozen' state until re-activated minutes, hours or days later. DRAM in self-refresh or slow-refresh mode

System Software and Development Tools

- Extensive graphics rendering support. Includes outline anti-aliased fonts, Bezier curve-based graphics and bitblt operations
- Extensive high-level language support available , including C, C++ and debuggers
- Run-time support for Macromedia Director

Video

- 10.4" 800 x 600 SVGA active matrix LCD panel
- 32k colours
- Support for external monitor with resolution up to 1600 x 600 pixels 16 colours and colour depths up to 16 million colours

Audio

- CD quality (16 bits per channel) stereo sound
- 16 bit variable rate sound capture
- Built-in speaker

I/O Ports & Interfaces

- 10.4" Resistive Analogue Touch Screen with medium or high resolution interface options
- 2 x Type II or 1x Type III PCMCIA socket
- Stereo headphones output
- AC adaptor connection
- Docking station connector, via docking station, will reproduce parallel port floppy disc interface, serial port, keyboard port, PS/2 mouse port, video monitor connection, AC adaptor connection
- Bi-directional infrared link
- Provision for CCD camera module

Physical

- Dimensions: width 215 mm, height 300mm, depth 38mm

- o Weight: 2.0Kg

Electrical

- o External switched mode PSU / battery charger, auto-ranging from 110V to 240VAC, 50 to 60 Hz (output 18Vdc 1.2A)
- o Battery life in continuous use: NiCd (1400mAh), up to 2 hours. NiMH (1800mAh), up to 3 hours
- o Three stage charge control algorithm including fast charge
- o Charge remaining or "Gas Gauge" monitor

Los cuartos de final de la Copa del Rey

El Barça se pasea en Mérida

Los azulgranas se clasificaron para las semifinales tras un partido plácido

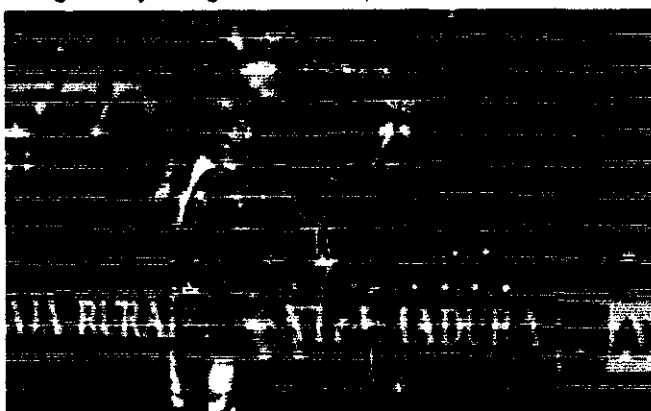

Sergi, Rivaldo y Ciric marcaron los goles del triunfo azulgrana

Oscar, que intervino en dos tantos, destacó en el equipo de Van Gaal

MARCOS LOPEZ

Enviado especial. Mérida

De paseo por Mérida. El Barça llegó anoche a las semifinales de la Copa del Rey casi sin despeinarse. Los suplentes no fallaron. Abandonaron el estadio extremeño con la conciencia tranquila, libres de cualquier culpa, asumiendo que esta cómoda victoria ante un rival inofensivo y tierno no cambiará mucho su futuro, pero dejaron algún rastro de su calidad. Oscar, por ejemplo, participó en dos goles y se ganó una oportunidad.

Sergi salta para abrazar a Oscar tras marcar el primer gol del Barça en Mérida.

Fue un asunto muy profesional, nada vistoso ni tampoco espectacular. Llegaron a Mérida, salieron al campo, con 16.000 extremeños dispuestos a vivir un milagro, marcaron un gol a los dos minutos (Sergi) y repitieron al inicio de la segunda parte (Rivaldo). El resto, incluido el gol de Ciric, sólo fue esperar que pasara el tiempo para volver a Barcelona. Ayer, los azulgranas elegidos por Van Gaal supieron cumplir con el trámite de la Copa y, además, lograron la primera victoria del Barça fuera de casa desde el 6 de diciembre.

Bogarde, en el banquillo

Por mucho que cambie Van Gaal, hay cosas que son tan imprescindibles como valiosas. Sergi, por citar el ejemplo más claro. El defensa, ahora reconvertido en interior, ha jugado tantos partidos como Luis Enrique, Figo o Reiziger, a los que el técnico concedió descanso, pero da la sensación de que él no lo necesita. Corre y defiende como nadie y, además, mete goles. O sea, una joya disfrazada de futbolista. Tipos como Sergi, capaces de llenar todo el campo con su hiperactividad, permiten camuflar los errores del equipo. El Barça sigue adelante en la Copa (cualquier otro resultado era poco menos que un desastre), pero su juego tampoco ofreció grandes signos de mejora, aunque tuvo más chispa.

En Mérida se detectaron los mismos fallos que han perseguido a los azulgranas durante la temporada. Van Gaal hizo rotar a los jugadores (ayer jugaron Ciric, Anderson, Oscar y Ferrer), pero todo continúa igual. No hay profundidad, aunque Oscar da otro aire en el ataque. Anderson jugó de nueve y no marcó. Hay detalles que nunca cambian. Ayer, el técnico renunció a una de sus ideas básicas. Dejó a Reiziger en Barcelona, sentó a Bogarde en el banquillo y complació así a miles de culés. Jugó la defensa de la selección (Ferrer, Nadal, Abelardo y Sergi), aunque situados de otra manera. Nada que ver con la estructura clementista empleada en la selección.

No hubo ni tan siquiera tiempo de verificar su respuesta en un momento delicado. En dos minutos, el partido quedó sentenciado. Oscar rompió por el centro y aguantó una eternidad hasta que llegó Sergi. Le cedió el balón, mientras los defensas del Mérida asistían de espectadores a la carrera del azulgrana. Pasen y vean, decían los extremeños. Y Sergi, que juega a otra velocidad, se coló en el área como si fuera el pasillo de su casa. Montoya se unió con su pasividad a la fiesta y el Barça ya pudo subirse al chárter de vuelta a El Prat.

Defensa nueva

En dos minutos, la gente se calló. Van Gaal pudo tomar notas tranquilo, se dedicó luego a pensar en la Liga y en los extraños rivales que le aguardan en su camino hacia la final (el matagigantes Alavés, el sorprendente Mallorca y hoy tal vez el Zaragoza). Del partido de anoche, retendrá pocas cosas en la memoria. Si acaso, le sirvió para comprobar la fiabilidad de los defensas españoles, pese a algunas indecisiones de Nadal. Con ellos tendrá que vivir ahora Van Gaal debido a la marcha de Reiziger y Bogarde a Miami para jugar con Holanda.

Sobre Ciric, noticias contradictorias. Estuvo más tiempo en el suelo (esto resulta normal si te marca Pablo Alfaro) que jugando a fútbol. Sigue tan cohibido como en julio, aunque ayer al menos se marchó con un gol que le puede devolver la sonrisa. Oscar, por su parte, se va de Extremadura con la bolsa llena de crédito. Dio la asistencia a Sergi del primer tanto y luego dejó a Rivaldo solo ante Montoya tras un gran pase. Lo suyo, si que fue una noche bien aprovechada. Como el Barça, con la ley del menor esfuerzo, logró el mayor rendimiento.
